BUILDING A BRIGHTER FUTURE
The YMCA is fortunate for the fact that there is a deep understanding within the community of our association’s commitment to substantially improving our region. We are very blessed to live in such a caring and compassionate city, which allows the Y to remain as a leader in building up all people through work in youth development, healthy living and social responsibility.

After having a hugely successful year, we would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the YMCA of Rock River Valley’s supporters for all they have done to support the ongoing transformation of our community. Without the generous support of volunteers, members of our Board, and staff, the work we have done throughout the year would not be possible.

The Y continues to expand and enhance its vision for the Rock River Valley thanks to these contributions and the engagement of local businesses and residents. Through these continued efforts, the YMCA is in a pivotal position to act on the needs of the greater community.

We personally want to thank each and every member of our community for what you have helped to create. Thank you for putting your faith in us. Thank you for sticking with us through our challenges. Thank you for bringing your very best to us and sharing this vision with others. Thank you to the friends and neighbors who form the community that we all love so much.

Very Truly Yours,
Twelve years ago, Jamie Welden was in a tragic car accident that left her practically immobilized. Her skull sustained massive damage and doctors had to meticulously put it back together over the course of five hours. Once out of life-threatening danger, Jamie had to start on the road to recovery. She went to Van Matre Rehabilitation Hospital for orthopedic and physical therapy. Jamie made huge strides in her rehabilitation over the next nine years. Her therapist recommended she should start coming to the YMCA so she could work on more than just her muscles.
Once Jamie overcame her initial fears of coming to the Y, she began to thrive. Jamie works with a personal trainer, Shaun Walsh, and says their relationship is like being brother and sister. “I look to him if I ever need anything. I work really hard with him but some days, we just wander around and I will talk to everybody,” Jamie states with a huge smile. Because when you are at the Y, you get more than just a place to work out. “It’s like my other home, I love to be at the Y.”

Jamie’s therapy was going so well that she asked if she could volunteer for the Y. “Working there is absolutely amazing!” says Jamie. For two days a week, three hours a day, Jamie is a Greeter at the front desk of the ID Pennock Family YMCA in downtown Rockford. For someone who hasn’t been through what Jamie has, being at the front desk for three hours may not seem all that difficult. However, it is a remarkable accomplishment for her and demonstrates that when you work hard to achieve a goal, nothing can stop you.

Jamie has been volunteering for the Y since July 2013. “I just love people. I call everybody my friend that’s there, because they are all my friends.” Next time you visit the Y, say hi to Jamie. And know that you will always find a friend when you come to the Y.

COMMUNITY IMPACT
The Y serves over 30,000 individuals each year through a wide variety of programs and services. Our work extends into schools, neighborhoods, community centers and beyond. We are proud of our long history of service in the greater Rockford area.

RUDY PULLINS
BIG BROTHERS BIG SISTERS VOLUNTEER

For over 25 years, Rudy Pullins has volunteered as a “Big” in the Big Brothers Big Sisters Program at the YMCA of Rock River Valley. From a young age, Rudy demonstrated a deep concern for others, especially young people, and he was encouraged to use this spirit of caring throughout his life. Rudy took this to heart, as his years of service with both the Big Brothers Big Sisters and the Rockford Sexual Assault Council clearly show. Throughout his time volunteering he has mentored eleven different “Littles,” the longest of which spanned the course of nine years. Over the last twelve years, Rudy has mentored two matches at a time, clearly pouring his heart into seeing these young men succeed.

Rudy is currently matched with a young man named John, and through Rudy’s mentorship, the two have been building a strong bond for over three years.

“The bottom line is to just go out and try to make the difference that you think should be made.”

TO WATCH RUDY’S WHOLE STORY VISIT WWW.ROCKRIVERYMCA.ORG
In their time together the two work on anything from improving free throw skills to developing writing talents, making sure they keep a healthy balance of both fun activities and structured time for education. “Sometimes the agreement is, we’ll go out and we’ll play basketball, we’ll play football, baseball, whatever it is. But we will trade that off, so that we do the academic work first and that’s going to be our priority,” states Rudy, with the tone of a father and coach all bundled into one. “I see John often because I think it’s necessary...he is struggling, so what I want to do is be there as much as he needs me to help him overcome the hurdle that he is trying to overcome.”

Rudy is driven to serve others through Big Brothers Big Sisters because he knows his time is truly having an impact on the lives of others. “As long as it makes a difference, you know, you just have to keep going,” he states. “The bottom line is to just go out and try to make the difference that you think should be made.” Rudy’s story is just one example of how one person can make tremendous impact on the lives of others by simply sharing their time and talents in the service of the greater good. By developing opportunities for servant-leaders like Rudy to give back, the YMCA and other service agencies can play an important role in transforming the future of the greater Rockford area.

Rudy has been a key volunteer in the success of the Big Brothers Big Sisters program and says, “You want to stick with a program that you think is making a difference, so, I’ve stuck with it because I think it’s effective, I think it has a great structure, I think all the guidelines and limitations they set are appropriate for kids to make great advancement...It’s a great program, that’s all I can say.”
EVENTS

The YMCA is proud to host several special events throughout the year to share its progress and record of service with the community. These celebrations serve as a way for us to connect with new people and show the important work our association has accomplished.

COMMUNITY HEALTH CHALLENGE

This past year marked the start of something that we hope will be a continual initiative within our city. During the first 10 weeks of the New Year, we challenged over 300 individuals to dedicate themselves to transform their lives by agreeing to take part in the YMCA Community Health Challenge. The YMCA Community Health Challenge is a wellness initiative focused on building up our community while encouraging healthy lifestyles. We realize that for many people the only way to improve their habits and lifestyles is to have people around them encouraging them and pushing them forward. This is the kind of community we hope to build as the YMCA Community Health Challenge continues, one that looks out for each other; one that encourages personal growth, and is concerned not simply with individual status but with those around them. Thanks to all who made the first year a success! We look forward to helping even more people build up the foundations of healthy living in the years to come.

2014 COMMUNITY DINNER

The City of Rockford was recently listed as the fourth most obese city in the nation. Our goal and vision for this city encompasses far more than simply getting ourselves off this list, and includes transforming our city and surrounding areas into leading community and a role model in the areas of healthy living, youth development, and social responsibility. For this vision to come to life, we must take a look at the reality of our current circumstances, and agree on a plan of action to become a better, healthier community. We believe we are off to a good start, and this past March we invited special guest, Dr. Patch Adams, to come and address over 800 community members at our 2014 Community Dinner. We had an exceptional turn out, great support from our partners and supporters, and Dr. Adams brought much needed encouragement for the future vision of the YMCA and the improving of health in this community. This is just the beginning and we are excited to share the journey of improving our community with you.
This year marked the third year we hosted the YMCA Intern Challenge. The Intern Challenge is an leadership development challenge for high school and college students, in which contestants are split into teams and face off in weekly challenges, which revolve around community service, business, marketing and other various themes. While this program is both fun and challenging, our hope is that the several weeks of challenges open the eyes of all who participate. Our goal is to show these students that flourishing in today’s professional world takes many skills that simply cannot be taught in a classroom. These skills have to be learned though real world challenges, including successes and failures.

After the students had put in 6 weeks of hard and often time-consuming work, it all came to the final challenge. Levi Johnston—one of the youngest contestants we’ve ever had—was one of the three finalists, and ultimately came away with the win. This came with a year-long internship with the Y and a $2,500 college scholarship. Congratulations to Levi and to all who participated!

“I’m kind of in awe. I’m relieved to be done because it’s been a tough summer. I’ve learned about the qualities of a leader, also that the city is pretty amazing with all of the things we do. It’s definitely been the hardest thing I’ve had to do.”

2015 COMMUNITY GALA

To build up the leaders of today and tomorrow, a community must foster the values that make a strong leader. The Y is committed to this process, and to impacting the lives of all members of our community. Because of that promise we will continue to host community-wide events with individuals who are engaging, encouraging and experts in their fields. In 2015, we will turn the focus of the annual community dinner towards social responsibility to further impact and better the lives of those in our community. As we do this, we have also decided to rename the event because of what we have planned for this historic night. Join the Y and special guest speaker Stedman Graham for the 2015 Community Gala, and be a part of the much-needed change in our community. This year’s event will be held on March 19, 2015 and will be a night you will not want to miss. Please mark your calendars and we look forward to sharing with you all that we have planned.

“Well as it started out, I was anemic and my family doctor couldn’t figure out what the problem was,” states Betty Klaung with a sigh. After undergoing a variety of tests and procedures, including a few blood transfusions, Betty was sent to a cancer specialist to uncover what was happening. “I was sent to a cancer doctor and, right away, they knew.” Betty was quickly diagnosed with non-Hodgkin’s lymphoma. After the initial shock set in, Betty began her treatment and soon found herself on the road to recovery.

After a cross-country move to Rockford, Betty began to explore the area’s options for treatment and community health opportunities. That’s when she learned about LIVESTRONG at the YMCA, a wellness program for cancer survivors.

“IT’S GOOD TO HAVE SOMEWHERE LIKE THIS TO GO TO. IT’S REALLY GOOD TO KNOW THAT YOU’RE WITH PEOPLE THAT HAVE DONE THE SAME THING, ARE GOING THROUGH THE SAME THING”
In the summer of 2014, Betty began attending the LIVESTRONG at the YMCA program, which has helped her make strong improvements through the recovery process. The program provides an opportunity for cancer survivors to regain their strength, connect with people in similar situations, and concentrate on their sense of well-being, rather than the disease. “It’s good to have somewhere like this to go to, it’s gotten me started in exercising...I have exercise equipment at home, but you don’t do it at home,” says Betty with a chuckle. “It’s really good to know that you’re with people that have done the same thing, been through the same thing.”

Betty is currently in remission, and goes to the clinic every four months to have her blood work done. When asked what advice she has for anyone going through a similar situation, she simply states, “Be strong and have faith.” This outlook has helped her get through the hardest of the struggles and developed an inner strength and character which is unwavering. LIVESTRONG at the YMCA helped to give Betty confidence through her recovery, and provided a space to learn and develop healthy skills during an extremely challenging time in her life.

LIVESTRONG at the YMCA is a free 12-week program tailored to meet the specific needs of adult cancer survivors. By focusing on the whole person and not the disease, LIVESTRONG at the YMCA helps participants move beyond cancer in spirit, mind, and body.

2014 marked significant financial achievements for the YMCA of Rock River Valley. This included a new financial agreement, in the form of a 15-year bond issued by the State of Illinois, which was purchased by BMO-Harris Bank. This transaction reflects a significant strengthening of the Y’s financial situation, and will save our association roughly $100,000 each year on interest. We also made progress in capital improvements, with $800,000 worth of upgrades and renovations completed at the I.D. Penrock Family Y. This included moving our administrative offices and constructing an interactive youth education center, the YMCA Exploratorium.

This past year has also served as a transitional period for the Y’s Finance Group, as several staff members have taken on new roles and responsibilities, and we completed a second year of working with Daxko, a membership and accounting software system. This software has helped to restructure our financial reporting processes to be more in step with program evaluation standards. Our association recently transferred our email service to Google, which offers its services to non-profits like the Y free of charge. This switch has saved the Y money through an elimination of server maintenance fees and other related costs. These small yet significant steps are important in the process of building an efficient and sustainable organization.

Throughout the past year the Y has worked through several other significant events, which we have adapted to and progressed from in a strong and forward-looking manner. This past winter caused a significant increase in operating costs while also negatively impacting membership counts. However, the Y quickly adjusted our budget forecasts in preparation of the following months, which have offered much more positive outcomes. In the last few months, Y members have probably seen improvements in both facilities, as we have upgraded the majority of our fitness equipment with state-of-the-art units and have invested in other new furnishings for our wellness centers. We are also very encouraged by several generous gifts we recently received, which will fund the remodeling of the boys’ locker room at IDP and the historic Log Lodge. There are several other important projects on the horizon, and we thank our current and future donors for their important part in bringing these plans to life.

CAPITAL CAMPAIGN

To continue our legacy of service, our Y has developed long-term plans for expansion and growth. With the support of our community we will remain as part of the foundation of community for the next 150 years and beyond.

In March 2013, the YMCA announced a ten-year, $20 million capital campaign to fund major projects, facility improvements and renovations at several of our wellness centers and program sites. As the Y has continued to increase our membership base and add new programs over the past three years, we have recognized the importance of looking to the future needs of our community and association. This capital campaign has the ultimate goal of improving the level of services offered to the community, and revitalizing our city through aesthetic improvements and program site expansions. We are committed to securing support through the next decade so that we can ensure the Y’s sustainability and a high quality of services going forward.

The Y has dedicated itself to providing essential services and programs to the greater Rockford area for over 150 years, and just like any agency or organization, we must take a long-term approach to establishing a sustainable model of growth and service. We applaud and support the current efforts of our community to revitalize downtown Rockford and we have committed to be part of this exciting process. As part of this commitment, we are working to renew the historic I.D. Pennock Family Y. With the support of the community, this facility will undergo a remarkable transformation while still preserving the historic features of one of the nation’s largest Y centers. This plan includes a complete overhaul of the building’s exterior, accessibility improvements and equipment upgrades.

In addition to these important projects, we have many other projects planned that are sure to excite Y members and the community at large. This includes recreational expansions at Camp Winnebago, a therapeutic child development center at the downtown Y, and the complete restoration of the historic Log Lodge, just to name a few. I am proud to be leading the Board of Directors through the next few years of this campaign, and we hope that our community will continue to support our work. Thank you to the generous donors who have already made contributions to the capital campaign. Without this support we could not make progress in these important improvements and updates, which are sure to have a significant impact on our community for years to come.

OUR DONORS

We depend on the generosity of our community to ensure that every individual—regardless of age, income or background—has the access to the essentials needed to learn, grow, and thrive.

Throughout the 156-year history of the YMCA of Rock River Valley, our association has had the privilege of working with, and receiving the support of, countless volunteers and donors, who have made it their duty to serve their neighbors by supporting the work and mission of the Y. The story of our association’s founding is filled with community leaders and volunteers coming together to create something bigger than themselves; to establish and build up an organization that addresses the needs of the less fortunate, and inspires others to serve.

Philanthropy, volunteerism and other forms of service are cornerstones of any progress made in a community. When concerned citizens take ownership of the struggles and challenges that their region faces they set an example and can shift the attitudes and perceptions of others. Charitable giving and volunteerism should not be measured solely in dollars and hours, but rather by the impact they have in individual lives and a community as a whole. The Y is so grateful to the volunteers and donors that have shared their time, talents and treasures to make significant, positive impacts in our community. The Y offers a wide variety of opportunities to serve others because our reach into the greater Rockford area is so deep.

Whether it’s through mentoring an at-risk child with Big Brothers Big Sisters, volunteering on one of our community action councils, or joining our annual support campaign, there are so many ways to get involved. Through their selfless service, Y volunteers are leaders who put the needs of others before themselves. Our community has reaped the benefits of these volunteer leaders’ talents and time through countless hours of service, and we are proud to provide many opportunities to serve. We cannot thank our volunteers and donors enough. To all who have volunteered their time or donated to the Y, we are forever grateful. To those who seek to make a difference in the lives of others, we encourage you to get involved and see how a small offering of your time can have a significant impact on your community.
